

How have you noticed your bootcamp knowledge grow or change during Programming Basics?

I have noticed that I am more comfortable collaborating with others on problem solving.

How have you noticed your approach to learning change throughout Programming Basics?

I have been mostly self taught so listening to instruction is a new experience for me.

What do you consider your "Mistake of the Week," which was a valuable failure you learned from during Programming Basics?

I made assumptions about the function and form of the T-diagram. I should have asked before I jumped in. I had to go back and redo some work.
